Conference on water opposes new dams, canals

By Our Staff Correspondent

HYDERABAD: A conference on Sindh's water share and its other resources rejected any new dam to be built over the Indus River or any new canal to be drawn from it.

Participants of the conference adopted a set of resolutions seeking shelving of all moves for new dams or canals over the Indus; putting an end to 'conspiracies' to block flows of the river; compliance of the Indus Water Treaty; release of water to Sindh as per its share under the 1991 Water Accord; release of 30 million acre feet downstream Kotri; registration of unregistered villages in the province, especially in the coastal belt; and stopping all talk about creation of more provinces from within Sindh.

The resolutions were adopted at the conference after leaders of various entities paid homage to Hari leader Comrade Mohammad Ramazan Khaskheli on his fourth death anniversary at the event, held in the local press club on Thursday.

The event was organised by the Sindh Hari Committee, whose president Samar Jatoi paid rich tributes to the services of the late Hari leader.

Awami Workers Party leader Bukhshal Thallu, National Party activist Comrade Taj Mari, Sindh Sufi Forum leader Dr Badar Channa, Comrade Ramazan Khaskheli Yadgar Committee Chairman Ghulam Hussain Khaskheli, Anwar Ali, Iqbal Mallah, Punhal Sario, Abdul Karim Talpur, Ismail Kumbhar and others also paid homage to the late leader.

The speakers highlighted the "injustices being done to Sindh" in terms of resource allocations and denial of its rights by the Centre.

They said Ramazan Khaskheli was as a strong voice of haris who actively worked towards safeguarding their rights.

They deplored that both rural and urban areas of Sindh already stood deprived of basic amenities and now conditions were aggravating further.

They observed that peasants, labourers and women would have to play their due role for a change in society.

The audience were told that if the pace of sea intrusion was not stopped now, then it might start eroding lands in Hyderabad city.

Top TTAP leaders start Sindh visit to mobilise masses for Feb 8 strike

Mahmood Achakzai, Allama Nasir Abbas, Asad Qaiser and others will attend G.M. Syed's birth anniversary programme in Sann

Dawn Report

KARACHI/HYDERABAD: Only hours after being appointed Leader of the Opposition in the National Assembly, Mahmood Khan Achakzai on Friday embarked on his first political engagement in the new role under the banner of the Tehreek Tahafuz-i-Ayeen Pakistan (TTAP).

He, along with a high-profile delegation, arrived in Karachi for a four-day tour of Sindh to mobilise the masses for a nationwide strike and protest rallies scheduled for February 8.

The delegation comprises Senator Allama Raja Nasir Abbas, Akhunzada Hussain Ahmed Yousafzai, Asad Qaiser, Khalid Yousaf Chaudhry (Pakistan Tehreek Insaf founder Imran Khan's counsel.

"The delegation was received by party leaders and workers at the Jinnah International Airport. The Sindh visit formally began on Friday and is primarily focused on preparations for the February 8 protests planned across the country," said a statement issued by Akhunzada Hussain Ahmed Yousafzai, the TTAP spokesman.

He said that the TTAP believes that the demonstrations and strike are intended to safeguard people's constitutional rights. The aim is to organise public resistance against the "worsening political situation and erosion of democratic norms," he said.

Sources privy to the schedule of TTAP engagements said that the opposition leaders would attend 122nd birth anniversary of veteran Sindh nationalist leader G. M. Syed, in Sann on Saturday.

TTAP Vice President and Sindh United Party (SUP) chief Syed Zain Shah confirmed that Achakzai, Raja Nasir Abbas, Mustafa Nawaz Khokhar, Asad Qaiser and others would reach Sann on Saturday (today) to attend the birth anniversary celebrations of G. M. Syed, Zain Shah's paternal grandfather.

TTAP leaders are also to visit Hyderabad city on Saturday evening after arriving at PTI's Latifabad office, Insaf House

PTI Sindh chief Haleem Adil Shaikh said that the TTAP leadership doesn't have any political commitment other than Sann event. "In Hyderabad, they would only have dinner before returning to Karachi," he added.

The birth anniversary would be organised by the SUP, founded by Zain Shah's ailing cousin Syed Jalal Mehmood Shah, who is a former (2006) deputy speaker of the Sindh Assembly. Three programmes in connection with anniversary would also be held in Sann the same day.

Jeay Sindh Qaumi Mahaz-Bashir (JSQM-B) led by Sanan Qureshi would hold its programme as per an already announced schedule. Jeay Sindh Rahbar Committee, a conglomerate of four nationalist parties — JSQM-Shaheed Bashir, Jeay Sindh Qaum Parast Party (JSQP), Bashir Jamali's Jeay Sindh Tehreek (JST) and Riaz Chandio-led Jeay Sindh Mahaz-Riaz (JSM-R).

JSQM-Arisar would also hold its separate programme. JSQM-Shaheed Bashir is a breakaway faction of JSQM created by Dr Niaz Kalani after splitting from JSQM-Bashir.

No room for technocrat govt in Constitution, says Nisar Khuhro

By Our Correspondent

HYDERABAD: Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP) Sindh President Nisar Ahmed Khuhro has said that there is no room for a technocrat government in the Constitution.

He also refuted speculations about such a dispensation being under consideration at any level.

Formation of a technocrat government in the country is against the spirit of the Constitution, he said while speaking at party workers' programme held here on Friday to mark the 98th birth anniversary of PPP founder chairman Zulfikar Ali Bhutto.

The event was organised by the party's Hyderabad district leader Azhar Siyal.

Khuhro said that his party would not allow formation of any such government because there was no room for it in the Constitution.

"Only elected governments can be installed in the country … no conspiracy to bring in a technocrat government will be allowed," he said in unequivocal terms.

Khuhro also castigated those who were talking about creation of new provinces from within Sindh and deduction in provinces' share under resource distribution formula of the National Finance Commission (NFC) Award.

He said that if any conspiracy was hatched against rights of Sindh, the PPP would stand with the masses.

He said that Sindh was also not getting representation in the Oil & Gas Regulatory Authority (Ogra), and told party workers that it would raise this issue in the parliament.

He said PPP believed in continuity of democracy and that no bargain over Sindh's rights was acceptable to it.

Paying homage to Z.A. Bhutto, Khuhro said ZAB made Pakistan a nuclear power which ultimately enabled the country to hand a military defeat to India recently. A consensus Constitution was also given to Pakistan by Bhutto to run the country in right direction, he said.

He said PPP has a rich legacy of sacrifices rendered by its leaders and workers for the country and Constitution.

He said ZAB's daughter and former prime minister Shaheed Mohtarma Benazir Bhutto further strengthened Pakistan's armed forces by bringing in the missile technology.

Benazir faced trial and tribulations but never gave up, he said, adding that it was Sindh that had led the Movement for the Restoration of Democracy (MRD) and made Benazir the prime minister.

Sindh, Centre agree to devolve EOBI, workers welfare funds to provinces

CM Murad says move will bring significant benefits to workers

By Our Staff Reporter

KARACHI: The Sindh and federal governments on Friday reached an agreement to improve coordination on protecting workers' rights and to accelerate labour-welfare reforms, including the planned handing over of the Employees' Old-Age Benefits Institution (EOBI) and the Workers' Welfare Fund (WWF) to provincial control.

The EOBI was set up back in 1976 as the nation's first social-security scheme for private-sector employees, providing pensions and survivor benefits, while the Workers' Welfare Fund was created to finance housing, health and education projects for labourers.

Over the decades, both bodies have operated under the federal government, but the 18th Amendment to the Constitution gave provinces the right to take charge of such social-service functions.

However, the handing over of the two institutions has faced an inordinate delay mainly due to a lack of consensus among federal and provincial governments on how to split the funds, the regulatory framework and the oversight mechanisms.

The other reason is stated to be legal and constitutional uncertainties as existing laws governing EOBI and WWF would need to be amended or replaced.

A press statement issued by the Chief Minister's House said that Chief Minister Syed Murad Ali Shah held a meeting with Federal Overseas Pakistanis and Human Resource Development Minister Chaudhry Salik Hussain to discuss matters related to overseas Pakistanis, labour welfare, and human resource development.

The meeting, held at the CM House, was attended among others by Sindh Labour Minister Saeed Ghani, Chief Secretary Asif Hyder Shah and Federal Overseas Pakistanis Secretary Nadeem Aslam Chaudhry.

The meeting held detailed discussions on the devolution of the EOBI and WWF to the provinces.

The chief minister said that transferring EOBI and WWF to the provinces would bring significant benefits to workers and ensure improved service delivery.

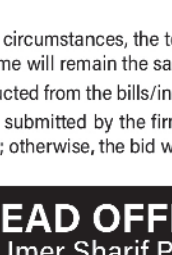
In Loving Memory of Our Beloved Son & Brother

Jehangir Daniyal Butt

I miss you my son — Aboo

It has been Twenty two years that you departed from this world leaving us shattered in our heart and soul.



If tears could build a road to heaven,
We would walk right up to bring you back.
Nobody knows what it meant to lose you,
Our heart still aches and mourns with sadness,
It is the nevermess that is so painful.
No farewell words were spoken,
No time to say good-bye.
You were gone before we knew it and only —
God knows why.

Please recite Surah Fatcha, 17th of January, 2026
